Children in Need - grants

3. The Comité was informed that BBC Children in Need funded not-for-profit organisations that worked with disadvantaged children and young people aged 18 years and under – this included the Channel Islands. There was a rolling programme of grants, ranging from £1,000 to £40,000 per year, for up to three years, which supported a range of projects and core costs. The organisation was also delivering an invite only funding programme, Big Sky, which would award grants of up to £5,000 to grass-roots groups addressing the emotional health and wellbeing of children and young people aged 8-13 years living in spatially isolated communities. Further information was available from the BBC Children in Need Impact Officer.
